

ISRAEL and PALESTINE: Into the Heart of the Conflict

A Film Series & speakers by South Bay Mobilization
Sponsored by: San Jose Peace Center, Jewish Voice for Peace
Palestinian Heritage Committee & SJSU Students for Justice

As the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and search for a just peace goes on, this film series makes an attempt to raise issues related to the history of the conflict, put it a human face, expose the realities of the occupation, and explore the activities and approaches that offer some promise of the reconciliation and peace between Israelis and Palestinians.

Winner "Best Film" Carthage International Film Festival 2002

"Jenin, Jenin" shows the extent to which the prolonged oppression and terror has affected the state of mind of the Palestinian inhabitants of the Jenin refugee camp.

Listen to the old men, the children, the doctors and the grieving mothers of Jenin, after the Israeli Army's April 2002 attack flattened homes and buried an unknown number of civilians. Bitterness and grief are the prevailing feelings among the majority of the population.

A little girl, who does not seem to be much older than twelve, tells her story but knows no fear. The ongoing violence in her day-to-day life only nourishes her feelings of hatred and the urge to take revenge. She shouts that the Palestinians will never give up the struggle, that they will keep on producing children who can continue the fight against injustice.

Banned in Israel, "Jenin, Jenin" is dedicated to Iyad Samudi, the producer of the film, who was shot dead by Israeli soldiers on June 23rd, 2002, as he returned home after completing the film. For more information check our event calendar:
