Robert Jensen

MACLA Arts Center

Few things scare people as much as speaking in public. Too often people look at the great speakers and say, 'I could never do that.' But everyone has the capacity to communicate clearly to an audience. Whatever level of speaking you do, this workshop can help improve the quality of your arguments and your ability to deliver them clearly. My AAA method helps people develop the skills and confidence needed to help people who 'could never do that' start to do exactly that. What is the AAA method? You have to take the workshop to find out.
