

Iraq, Inc.

A PROFITABLE OCCUPATION

"A powerful combination of investigative research and on-the-ground reporting."

- Naomi Klein, author No Logo, columnist
The Guardian, UK

A talk by Pratap Chatterjee

Pratap Chatterjee

Program Director &
Managing Editor of
www.CorpWatch.org
(based in Oakland, CA)

In Iraq, Inc.: A Profitable Occupation, author Pratap Chatterjee brings us the looted ministries, dilapidated hospitals, and guarded corporate enclaves that mark the plunderous road to America's liberated Iraq. Bringing together a critical mass of evidence from major media sources with an on-the-ground account of the Iraq occupation business, Chatterjee presents the most complete-to-date chronicle of the exploits of private contractors hired to reconstruct and manage Iraq.

Pratap Chatterjee has won multiple awards for his investigative journalism on topics ranging from the California Gold Rush to the impact of the United States invasion of Afghanistan, including four Project Censored awards. His articles have appeared in the Financial Times, the New Republic, the Guardian (UK), and the Independent (UK), and many others.

San Jose
Friday, July 29th
7:30 pm

St. Paul's United Methodist Church
405 South Tenth St
San Jose
(Wheelchair accessible)

Suggested Donation: $5 - $15 Sliding Scale
(Students FREE! No one turned away for lack of funds)

Sponsored by

South Bay Mobilization,

San Jose Peace Center and United for Peace & Justice

For more information, contact South Bay Mobilization: (408) 998-8504
www.sbm4peace.org

Iraq, Inc.

A PROFITABLE OCCUPATION

"A powerful combination of investigative research and on-the-ground reporting."

- Naomi Klein, author No Logo, columnist
The Guardian, UK

A talk by Pratap Chatterjee

Pratap Chatterjee

Program Director &
Managing Editor of
www.CorpWatch.org
(based in Oakland, CA)

In Iraq, Inc.: A Profitable Occupation, author Pratap Chatterjee brings us the looted ministries, dilapidated hospitals, and guarded corporate enclaves that mark the plunderous road to America's liberated Iraq. Bringing together a critical mass of evidence from major media sources with an on-the-ground account of the Iraq occupation business, Chatterjee presents the most complete-to-date chronicle of the exploits of private contractors hired to reconstruct and manage Iraq.

Pratap Chatterjee has won multiple awards for his investigative journalism on topics ranging from the California Gold Rush to the impact of the United States invasion of Afghanistan, including four Project Censored awards. His articles have appeared in the Financial Times, the New Republic, the Guardian (UK), and the Independent (UK), and many others.

San Jose
Friday, July 29th
7:30 pm

St. Paul's United Methodist Church
405 South Tenth St
San Jose
(Wheelchair accessible)

Suggested Donation: $5 - $15 Sliding Scale
(Students FREE! No one turned away for lack of funds)

Sponsored by

South Bay Mobilization,

San Jose Peace Center and United for Peace & Justice

For more information, contact South Bay Mobilization: (408) 998-8504
www.sbm4peace.org